Cotnoir Foils New Westminster Thrust

Big factor in Victoria Cougars' 3-1 win over New Westminster Royals last night was the steady goaltending of Jerry Cotnoir. Here he kicks one out that Bernie Strongman, behind him, slapped clear a moment later. Don Slater moves in with mayhem in his eye and glee on his face, while Gordy Fashoway looks on happily. Bob Frampton moves in from the right to hamper Slater. Roger Leger is behind Slater.—(Colonist photo by Jim Ryan.)

Pair Die in Gas-Filled Room; Police Indicate Murder-Suicide

Son, 18, Finds Parents' Bodies On Return Home From School

By TREVOR COLLINS

The bodies of a middle-aged couple were found last night in a James Bay district house. Police believe it to be a murder-suicide case.

Found dead in a gas-filled living room at 507 Montreal Street about 5.45 p.m. were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Speed.

Cause of death has not been definitely determined, but police say an autopsy will be held on the body of Mrs. Jose Speed, aged about 42.

Police investigation is still continuing and details are being withheld, but it is understood the bodies of the two people were found by their 18-year-old son, Arthur, when he arrived home from school.

Neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Glass, 203 Quebec, said the son arrived home and found the house locked.

He broke a rear window and entered the house that his father had lived in for 43 years, and smelled gas.

He entered the living room and found his mother and father on the floor with the fireplace gas jet turned on. A canvas was found around the bottom of the door.

RUSHED NEXT DOOR

The youth rushed next door for help and Miss Amy Myers, nurse from St. Joseph's Hospital, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glass, rushed back into the house and commenced artificial respiration on Mrs. Speed.

Meanwhile Robert Benson, a bystander, rushed in with the pair and the nurse gave him verbal instructions on how to try to revive Mr. Speed.

She also gave instructions to the son to phone city police and the fire department inhalator crew.

Their efforts failed.

Although police refuse to confirm the report it is understood Mrs. Speed had two deep gashes on her head when found. A pillow was over her head and her husband's arm was over the pillow.

The room was disarranged and there were signs of a struggle. Police also indicated there had been a struggle in another room and that an "instrument" had been found.

Neighbors said that a daughter, Valdreta Speed, 16, tried to get into the house about 4 p.m. but found all the doors locked.

BADLY SHOCKED

The son, Arthur, was so shocked over the affair that police said they would not question him until today. His grandmother, Mrs. Emma Speed, aged about 80, of 2184 Epworth, was also badly shocked when informed of the death of her son and daughter-in-law.

Fellow workers of the dead man at the B.C. Telephone Company said he was "a happy man." A neighbor who had been fishing on numerous occasions with Mr. and Mrs. Speed said they appeared to be a happy couple.

Other relatives in the family include Mrs. Joan Turner, 408 Superior, health department nurse, and Marjorie Speed, 2184 Epworth, sister of the dead man.

In his younger days Mr. Speed was a noted athlete. He used to row for the James Bay Athletic Association and was a one-time champion.

Cats Knot Series

There'll be a hot time in the old town of New Westminster tonight as the Victoria Cougars and Royals clash head-on in the seventh game of their torrid P.C.H.L. semi-final series.

Tonight's the night that one team goes to the sidelines and Victoria Cougars last night were roaring that it wouldn't be them.

Clearly outplaying the Royals all the way, the Cougars downed them, 3-1, to knot the series at 3-3.

Every game has been hard-hitting, and two of them went into the second period of overtime. For that reason, it will be two tired groups of athletes who skate out onto the ice surface at Queen's Park Arena tonight.

PLAY HOCKEY

And President Al Leader of the P.C.H.L. apparently intends to see that the boys play hockey.

Last night he tossed Eddie Powers in as referee, and the league's chief referee, Bill Knott, as linesman. With this safeguard towards good refereeing, Powers was obviously operating on orders as he clamped down on the penalties as soon as play opened. The players soon got the idea that you can't win hockey games sitting in the penalty box over feuds.

All three goals last night were popular ones. Leon Bouchard, who came off the bench to play two solid defensive games after Ernie Roche was sidelined, blazed the first in from far out with a torrid rising shot that Lucien Dechene never saw.

NEAT JOB

Les Hickey did a neat job on the winner as he lofted a goal-mouth pass from Fiori Goegan over Dechene.

The crowd appreciated the irony of this one, since it was Hickey who blasted the disputed goal in New Westminster Wednesday.

As the game neared an end, Dechene was lifted for an extra forward, and Roger Leger neatly placed Eddie Dorohoy in the open for a shot at the unprotected net. Eddie made no mistake, and the worried home-town fans screamed with joy.

The fact that the game was close at all was a tribute to the hard-working New Westminster defense and the miraculous Mr. Dechene. There was no comparison between the forward lines. All three Victoria lines were dangerous on the offense and vicious on defense.

Roger Leger led the Victoria defense to a steady, reliable effort, and threw in three bone-crushing checks that will be remembered tomorrow night.

Ottawa Buys No. 2 Yard

By TOM GREEN
Colonist Ottawa Correspondent

OTTAWA, April 4—The federal government has purchased for the naval service the former No. 2 Yarrows shipyard, it was officially announced tonight.

The sale price is $245,000. The necessary order-in-council authorizing the purchase has been passed by the cabinet and formally approved.

Legal papers for the transfer of title from the present owner, Manning Timber Products Ltd., are now in course of preparation. Manning Timber Products Ltd., acquired the property after the Second World War from War Assets Corporation.

It is reported by official sources that the government proposed to make a trade deal with Yarrows, owners and operators of their No. 1 yard. Under this exchange, Yarrows would take over the ownership of its former No. 2 yard, to which it would move its present plant. The navy would become owners of No. 1 yard, linking up with the barracks and dockyards at Esquimalt to be available for future expansion.

The Ottawa report confirms stories of last week-end that such a deal was in the offing.

The No. 2 yard was built during the Second World War for handling war-time freighters. Some of the yard was located in already government-owned property near the government dry-dock.

Yarrows officials said in Victoria that there was nothing definite to the reports of the exchange of yards.

If it came about, more than a year would be required to renew the No. 2 yard and transfer the plant.

Final Tries Made To Avoid Strikes

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP).—The United States government made a last-ditch effort today to head off two major strike threats—a work stoppage of 57,000 telephone workers in 43 states Monday and a country-wide walkout of 700,000 steelworkers Tuesday midnight.

A country-wide strike of 31,000 Western Union telegraphers went through its second day and some government officials looked gloomily forward to a long work stoppage.

Western Union claimed it had restored service in 48 major cities Friday, but the striking Commercial Telegraphers' Union (A.F.L.) belittled the claim. The union is demanding an extra 50 cents an hour in wage increases and benefits.

Nathan Feinsinger, chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, flew from New York to Washington in an effort to break the steel deadlock.

Mr. Feinsinger wound up his separate conferences with no indication if and when he might get both sides together. He plans further separate conferences Saturday.

He held out no immediate hope of peace.

John R. Steelman, acting mobilization director, succeeded earlier in getting company and union representatives to stand by in New York for further conferences.

Federal mediators worked hard in Detroit to settle the wage dispute between the Michigan Bell Telephone Company and the Communications Workers of America (C.I.O.). Michigan is considered the key state in the telephone dispute.

Mercury At Peak For Year

Victoria's warmest day of 1952 so far was recorded yesterday. The temperature climbed to 60 degrees.

The balmy weather of the afternoon continued in the evening, with the temperature at 53 degrees at 8.40 p.m.

There is every prospect the sunny weather will continue, the forecast today is for clear skies and for Sunday, also sunny.

Last month the highest temperature was 57 on the 14th. Lowest temperature was 31 on the 20th.

The highest March temperature on record is 68.7 for March 31, 1942. The temperature was an average 44 degrees last month.

Rainfall was 1.59 inches, the normal fall being 2.18 inches. A half inch of snow also was recorded and 14 days had precipitation.

Highest wind speed in March was 48 miles an hour on the 28th.

Sunshine recorded was 112.4 hours, below the normal 150.6 hours.

Defense Information Criticized by Drew

OTTAWA, April 4 (CP)—A call for greater information about Canada's defense effort was sounded in the Commons today by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader.

Entering a lengthening defense debate, he said the official opposition wanted an understandable report — Defense Minister Claxton gave a lengthy defense summary Thursday—so it could express intelligent opinion on the defense bill being placed before the people.

He reminded the chamber that the government's 1952-53 defense expenditures of $2,100,000,000 break down to $150 for each man, woman and child in Canada.

As the debate unfolded, the chamber heard suggestions for the building of a mobile striking force in Europe, more emphasis on civil air defenses in Canada and greater economy in defense spending.

Renewing a request that the defense estimates be sent to the newly-formed defense committee for detailed study, Mr. Drew said the people of Canada want effective defense and will support the government, but they want to know what is being done with the money.

Mid-Air Collision Kills 15

MOBILE, Ala., April 4 (AP)—Two United States Air Force transports collided north of Mobile tonight and carried 15 crew members and passengers to flaming death.

Six of the dead were crew members aboard a giant four-engine C-124 Globemaster capable of carrying up to 200 troops.

Nine others were passengers and crew members of a C-47.

Major James C. Caldwell, provost marshal at Brookley air force base here, said pieces of the wreckage found at the crash scene indicated the two planes became locked together on impact and came to earth at the same spot.

The planes plunged to earth on top of a railway box car with a tremendous roar. A number of box cars caught fire.

Witnesses said the planes came together at a fairly low altitude. What caused the collision was not immediately determined.

Cheese Imports Sharply Pared

OTTAWA, April 4 (CP)—Trade Minister Howe today announced that arrangements have been completed to pare down shipments on New Zealand cheese into Canada.

He said that New Zealand exporters and Canadian importers have voluntarily agreed to cancel shipments of most of the cheese which was ordered some months ago.

"Out of 1,200 long tons of cheese yet to arrive in Canada, 800 long tons have been canceled," Mr. Howe said in a statement.

A long ton is 2,200 pounds.

River Rises Six Feet Within Hour

MEDICINE HAT, Alta., April 4 (CP).—The South Saskatchewan River here rose almost six feet within an hour today. But civic authorities, now mopping up after the worst flood of the Seven Persons Creek made some 1,000 persons homeless earlier in the week, said there is little danger of the free-flowing river flooding the city.

The river level measured 12.56 feet at 2.30 p.m. An hour later the level was 18.47 feet. It continued to rise.

The heavy movement of ice downstream was bad news for the Swift Current area in south-western Saskatchewan, where an ice jam today damaged the $1,000,000 Saskatchewan Landing Bridge and threatened to knock it out. Velocity of the river current through Medicine Hat was four miles an hour.

Alberta Red Cross officials from Calgary, today conferred with Mayor Wilson Riley and flood relief officials. The Red Cross has offered to assume all responsibility for relief measures until rehabilitation has been completed by the civic flood directors.

Assistance registrations by evacuated families reached 228 family units by noon today and more were coming in.

The two creeks draining into the South Saskatchewan here, the Seven Persons and the Ross, were well within their banks. They are no longer considered a flood menace.

Frank Costello Convicted Of Contempt of Senate

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—Kingpin gambler Frank Costello was found guilty tonight of contempt of the senate crime investigating committee.

The federal court jury deliberated about seven hours.

Costello, 61, had sidestepped four federal government efforts to put him behind bars.

The so-called "prime minister of the underworld" was tripped up by the law only once before—in 1915 when the state of New York jailed him for 10 months for carrying a gun.

He beat rum-running, stolen jewel and tax charges and only last January 15 beat the same contempt charge on which he was convicted tonight.

A jury early this year failed to reach an agreement.

Costello, croaky-voiced star witness of the senate committee's widely-televised hearings here last year, was charged with 10 counts of contempt.

Specifically he was accused of walking out of the hearing without permission of the committee.

He faces a maximum of 10 years in prison and fines of $10,000.

Judge Sylvester Ryan set sentencing for next Tuesday morning.

Ice Menaces Costly Bridge

SWIFT CURRENT, Sask., April 4 (CP).—Huge blocks of river ice have damaged the year-old Saskatchewan Landing bridge 35 miles north of here in what pioneer residents term the worst ice pile-up in 40 years.

The 1,215-foot-long structure, stove in six to eight inches at one end and its deck heaved up about an inch in places by the grinding pressure of ice, is in imminent danger of being knocked out.

Army engineers today were rushed to the scene from Regina and the Dundurn camp in an effort to save the bridge, the only link between Swift Current in the southwestern corner of the province and points to the northwest.

Premier Nominated

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., April 4 (CP)—Premier Byron Johnson was nominated unanimously tonight to carry the Liberal standard in New Westminster riding in the coming provincial general election.

Rassling Turns Sissy ---Pop Bottles Out

Rassling went sissy in Victoria last night. They started serving pop to the fans in paper cups instead of in the bottle.

Jack Wiswell, manager of the Victoria Ballroom, where the weekly grapple fest is staged, said he switched to the paper cups because "wrestling fans get pretty darned excited."

"I don't want anybody bopped on the head by a bottle wielded by an over-heated spectator," Wiswell said. "I was advised that happened to a woman at the wrestling show in Vancouver."

He said he hadn't received orders to quit handing out bottles but was following a policy of safety first, though profits were less when the soft drinks were sold in paper cups.

Disarming of the wrestling fan—known to be one of the world's most hysterical—is in line with Memorial Arena policy.

Hockey fans there also have to be content with paper cups—and there's just no satisfaction in beaning a referee with one of them.

N.A.T.O. Termed Hope Of Peace, Secure Future

OTTAWA, April 4 (CP)—Dean Acheson, United States secretary of state, told External Affairs Minister Pearson in a message today it is increasingly evident the west's hopes for a peaceful and secure future depend "largely upon the success achieved by the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Mr. Acheson's message was sent on the occasion of the third anniversary of the signing of the treaty.

Mr. Pearson, chairman of the N.A.T.O. council, also received messages from Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France, Prime Minister Dr. Willem Dress of Holland and Premier Sophocles Venizelos of Greece.

Earlier Mr. Pearson himself sent messages to Charles M. Spofford, relinquishing the post of chairman of the council deputies, duties now being taken over by the full council, and Lord Ismay, recently chosen as N.A.T.O.'s first secretary-general.

Aorangi Lands People, Pineapples

The trans-Pacific liner Aorangi reached Ogden Point docks late yesterday afternoon with a full passenger list, about 1,580 tons of freight, and more than 2,000 bags of mail from "down under."

Only about 30 passengers disembarked here, the remainder continuing on to Vancouver where the ship will remain a week before making her return voyage.

The 45 tons of cargo left here was wool from New Zealand, and canned pineapple from the Hawaiian Islands. Bound for Vancouver was cargo including 1,900 cases of canned lamb, 400 cases of canned rabbit, powdered milk and cheese.

Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Sands, 1280 Dallas Road, were among those leaving the ship at this port. They have been on an eight-month world tour.

"We both had a wonderful time, but it is good to be back home. Victoria is a hard place to beat," Mrs. Sands remarked.

Newsmen hoping to interview L. P. Lord, chairman of the Austin Motor Company in London, met disappointment. Ship personnel said the Austin executive left the ship at Honolulu. It's expected he will fly to Vancouver for appointments slated for next week.

Attractive Bernice Paterson has spent long holiday in New Zealand, but is looking forward to returning to home in Toronto. Before heading East she will spend a few weeks here with sister, Mrs. Stella Bedford. Miss Paterson is seen here attending to last-minute clearance with immigration officer.—(Colonist photos by Jim Ryan.)

All the fascination of watching a huge ocean liner dock was absorbed by this little girl yesterday afternoon. Colonist photographer Jim Ryan captured this sidelight picture as Mv. Aorangi reached Ogden Point docks. Not missing a thing, despite heavy barrier, is seven-year-old Patsy Martindale, whose home is at 3826 Quadra.

Official Says S.P.C.A. Work "Scuttled"

VANCOUVER, April 4 (CP).—A minority group with extremist views is "scuttling" the work of the S.P.C.A., a Vancouver official of that organization charged today.

D. C. Ricardo, secretary-manager of the S.P.C.A. branch here, also criticized the press because, he said, it was publicizing the views of these dissenters and ignoring the good work the S.P.C.A. is carrying out.

He was alluding, in part, to newspaper reports on protests advanced at the S.P.C.A. convention now in session here that the society was permitting torture of dogs by vivisection.

"Every organization has its trouble makers," said Mr. Ricardo. "Possibly the S.P.C.A. has more because there is emotion involved."

He stated one of the dissenters came from Vancouver, another from Victoria. He emphasized that "the S.P.C.A. is neither for nor against vivisection. Our job is to curb cruelty, and we consider each case on its merits."

With G. E. Mortimore

Cartoonist Al Capp laments that America has forgotten how to laugh at itself. Anyone who hints that the American Way of Life has its ridiculous aspects risks being labeled Red.

Capp does not say this quite so plainly in the article he has written for the current Life magazine, but the inference is there.

". . . something happened that threatens to shackle me and my kind of comic strip. It is what I call the gradual loss of our fifth freedom. Without it, the other four freedoms aren't much fun, because the fifth is the freedom to laugh at each other."

"I was astounded to find it had become unpopular to laugh at any fellow Americans . . . Hollywood had stopped making ain't-American-wonderful-and-ridiculous movies, and was making ain't-America-wonderful-but-anyone - who - says - it's - ridiculous - too-deserves-to-be-picketed-movies."

* * *

Capp has a good point. Loss of humor certainly goes along with intolerance, fanaticism and increasing rigidity of beliefs. There is no doubt that some people in the United States, in trying to meet the threat of Communist tyranny, are falling into habits of mind similar to the habits they condemn in the Communists.

A number of Americans—not all, fortunately—have forgotten how to laugh at their own political and emotional foible. Something suspiciously like a mirthfull character indeed contrasts with such deadpan crepe-hangers as Hitler and Stalin. I can imagine Stalin chuckling sardonically at a joke against himself—provided he was the one telling it. I can't imagine Hitler registering amusement at all.

* * *

Intolerance can and does reduce the number of subjects we are allowed to regard as funny. But strangely enough, enlightenment can also wither the sense of humor.

I am told that many primitive persons look upon a cripple as a figure of fun, and treat accidents in which people are maimed as rich examples of slapstick humor. We have learned better. These days we know how to put ourselves in the hurt person's place.

The lunatic was once a stock clown, and even today a number of mentally unbalanced persons caper through joke books. But it is increasingly recognized that mental sickness is not funny.

The idea of making fun of hurt or sick animals is now so foreign to us that one finds it hard to realize that it ever existed. But it did exist.

Looking through a 90-year-old file of the Colonist, I came across a light anecdote about a gallant passer-by who stopped to console a lady. She was weeping about the death of an individual he took to be her fiance.

The climax came when she pointed down over an embankment at "her poor Jacob" lying dead below. The gallant passer-by went into gales of laughter when he saw the body was not that of a human being, but the lady's little pet dog which had slipped over and impaled itself upon a spiked railing. That was supposed to be funny.

Drunks are still looked upon as being humorous creatures, but now that acute alcoholism is recognized as a dangerous disease, the door to that storehouse of mirth is being slowly pulled to. Jokes dependent upon a racial gimmick are frowned upon in many quarters.

However, the loss of laughter about certain themes is just a transition stage. When race prejudice has completely disappeared, it will be possible for a brown man to laugh in a healthy way at a white face, or vice versa. One stage farther, when all things can be understood and explained, laughter will be out of date, I suppose. There is no laughter in Heaven.

But in our present darkness we can still laugh at the unknown. Death, the thing that hangs over all our heads, is looked upon as sad in particular cases, but in its general aspect it is often good for a laugh. Witness the graveyard scene in "Hamlet" and, on the radio, "Digby O'Dell, the Friendly Undertaker." Perhaps we mortals delude ourselves with the belief that we can laugh Death out of existence?

Splendid Treatment Given Oratorio Here

An impressive prelude to Easter was last night's presentation of Beethoven's oratorio, "Mount of Olives," by 70 voices, organ and piano at Metropolitan Church.

Victoria's all-male Arion Chorus marked its 60th season. Augmented by 24 feminine voices, it gave the magnificent oratorio splendid treatment.

Soprano Vera Barclay and tenor Dudley Wickett had little difficulty with their scores, and George H. Peaker, pianist, and Edgar Holloway, at the organ, played with expert authority accompaniment and solos often as demanding as Beethoven's classical works.

The trio, Alma Wittick, James McVie and Fred Wright, handled their difficult assignment with ease.

FLYING COLORS

Conductor Peter Copeland brought his choir through the work, which was heard here for the first time, with flying colors.

Lasting slightly over an hour, the oratio's lyric score was printed on programs, and the large audience was able to follow verses striking in their simplicity and power.

Those who thought the "Hallelujah" chorus from Handel's "Messiah" contained everything climactic in sacred music were dubious when they heard the "Hallelujah Unto God's Almighty Son" finale of the Beethoven work.

The same choir, incidentally, will give the "Messiah" April 9 at 8.15 p.m.

Straith Given Report on Cost Of Pay Boost

Provincial Secretary W. T. Straith has been given a report on costs of a 6 per cent wage increase asked by the B.C. Government Employees' Association, it was reported yesterday.

More than 10,000 civil servants are affected by the wage decision. It was not known whether the report has yet been studied by the cabinet.

Trawler Fire Damages Plane

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP).—The United States Navy reported today that one of its patrol bombers was slightly damaged by gunfire from an unidentified trawler Tuesday night in the China Sea about 100 miles southeast of Shanghai.

Civil Defense Chief Back From U.K. Course

Maj.-Gen. C. R. Stein, chief of British Columbia civil defense, returned to Victoria yesterday after attending the top level United Kingdom Civil Defense Staff College at Sunningdale, England.

The staff college, open to senior civil defense officials belonging to nations in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, deals with the latest developments in civil defense.

Gen. Stein described it as an "across-the-board" course on the handling of civil defense in the medical, welfare, rescue, public utilities, engineering and other aspects.

TUNIS, Tunisia, April 4 (AP).—French authorities said today they will lift the curfew in Tunisia Sunday, and perhaps soon lift other controls clamped on this uneasy North African protectorate.

Transport Board Hears Gas Applications Monday

OTTAWA, April 4 (CP)—Six pipeline companies getting set to spend hundreds of millions in piping natural gas out of Alberta are coming before the Board of Transport Commissioners Mon-

Expectations are there will be no immediate action in the long-deferred hearings but that the board will give the go-ahead to some companies promptly after the Alberta government decides how it will let gas be shipped out of the province.

The applications before the board, some for more than a year, call for export to the British Columbia west coast, to the prairies and eastern Canada and

So far, the Alberta government has held up permits for moving gas out of the province except for one to a United States defense industry in adjoining Montana.

An indication of early action on one front, however, came this week from the Alberta natural gas conservation board, which makes recommendations to the provincial government on gas export. It recommended shipment out of the Peace River field, straddling the northern Alberta and British Columbia border.

The board approved the application of Westcoast Transmission Company for a line to carry gas to Vancouver and then on to Portland, Ore. This will need endorsement of the Alberta government before the Transport Board will give the company the franchise for the $80,000,000 undertaking.

Informed quarters here said that, if the Alberta cabinet supports the provincial board recommendation, the transport board is almost certain to award the west-bound franchise to Westcoast Transmission.

T.C.A. Extends Prairie Links

EDMONTON, April 4 (CP) — Extension of Trans-Canada Air Lines service through Edmonton, giving this city a second transcontinental flight, was reported today by J. S. Grahame, district traffic sales manager.

Mr. Grahame said the new schedule will be effective April 27. It comes with the addition by the company of a fifth transcontinental flight. Under the new schedule a person could leave Edmonton for Vancouver at 9.50 a.m. and be back by 11.05 p.m. the same day.

Separate School Aid Opposed by C.C.F.

VANCOUVER, April 4 (CP)—The British Columbia C.C.F. party said today it is opposed to separate schools getting public funds.

The C.C.F. provincial council said it is also opposed to integration of Roman Catholic schools with the public school system. Roman Catholics in British Columbia launched a drive several months ago for partial integration of their schools with public schools, providing certain "safe guards" were established.

"We don't think this should be made an election issue," C.C.F. leader Harold Winch said. "But we feel it is only fair to the voter to tell him where we stand."

Roman Catholic schools in British Columbia at present do not receive provincial financial aid except for free text books and in some centres free medical and dental care for students.

"Privileges granted to one religious sect cannot be justly denied to others," the council said. "This would result in a complete breakdown of the public school system. A common educational background should be available to all who will share a common citizenship."

The council said it favored free health services for all students whether in public or separate schools.

Bribe Charge Ousts Woman From Jury

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—The foreman of the jury trying gambler Frank Costello for contempt of the Senate said today, after she was abruptly excused from service, that she had been accused of agreeing to accept a payoff.

"It is ridiculous," said Mrs. Helen Louise Mason, the jury foreman.

Shortly after court opened today, Judge Sylvester Ryan announced that two jurors had been removed from the jury. He gave no explanation.

But Mrs. Mason, a negro, said later that she was called into the judge's chambers, and that the judge told her he had been informed she "had been approached" and had agreed to accept money.

The jury was to begin considering a verdict today. It was the second trial of Costello on charges of contempt of the U.S. Senate crime committee last year.

The first one ended with the jury deadlocked 11 to 1 for conviction.

Six in Family Victims of Fire

CAMPBELLTON, N.B., April 4 (CP)—Only slight evidence of damage could be seen tonight after an early morning fire in this northern New Brunswick town took six lives of one family.

Five daughters and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Adina Lavoie met death, apparently asphyxiated, when a blast of heat seared their flimsy, two-room home over a barn.

The dead: Georgette, 13, Emaline, 15, Pauline, 9, Rosaline, 8, Giselle, 3, and Adina, Jr., 11.

A 22-year-old brother, Raymond, who had been sleeping in one room, and the mother, who slept with the victims in the other room, escaped.

Oddities

LONDON, April 4 (AP)—A doctor who kept his name secret described in the medical magazine Lancet today how to perform a certain emergency operation:

"The operator should lie in the Trendelenburg position. An E.N.T. surgeon's headlamp is an advantage. The blade of a kitchen knife is most generally suitable. This is manoeuvred after the fashion of a lencotomy knife. The impulse to reach for a lithotrite or cranlolist must be sternly resisted. A small magnet can be safely used to remove small ferruginous bodies which so often precipitate an acute retention."

The operation: Sneaking coins out of the kids' piggy bank.

JACKSON, Tenn., April 4 (AP)—An appliance store dealer who turned his business "over to the Lord" during the month of March has given the church a cheque for $422.90.

The dealer, E. V. Pettigrew, presented the cheque to Lambuth Memorial Methodist Church Thursday. The money represents the store's profit for the month. It will be used to help rebuild the church, destroyed by fire last fall.

"I wish it had been 10 times that much," Pettigrew said. "Things were going along well until the tornadoes struck west Tennessee, then business was paralyzed."

Communists Sentenced To Jail, Fined

BALTIMORE, Md., April 4 (AP)—Six Communist conspirators were sentenced to prison and fined $1,000 each today for plotting to advocate violent overthrow of the United States government.

They are the first of the so-called "second-level" party affiliates to be convicted and sentenced.

The sentences were:

Philip Frankfeld, 44, former chairman of the Communist party in Maryland and the District of Columbia and later party leader in Ohio, five years imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

George A. Meyers, 39, present Maryland party chairman and former labor leader, four years imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Leroy H. Wood, 37, D.C. party chairman, three years imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Mrs. Dorothy Rose Blumberg, 48, former district secretary, three years imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Maurice L. Braverman, 36, Baltimore lawyer who participated in party meetings and served as the district's counsel, three years imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Regina Frankfeld, 42, Philip Frankfeld's wife and former district secretary, two years imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

Reduced Meat Prices Cut Down Cost Index

OTTAWA, April 4 (CP).—Meat prices, which helped propel living costs to unprecedented levels last year, tapered off sharply during February, pushing the cost-of-living index down 1.7 points, the biggest monthly point drop in nine years, the Bureau of Statistics reported today.

A five-cent-a-pound drop in beef, coupled with other declines in pork and bacon, overrode boosts in rents, fuel, furniture and other items, the bureau said.

Second conservative monthly decline, it dropped the index to 189.1 from 190.8 in January and from 191.5 last December, when the index was at the highest point in history. The index is based on 1935-39 prices equal 100.

This was the first two-month-in-a-row drop since 1949, when the index slipped to 161.5 during November and to 161.0 the following month.

The February decline, pushing the living-costs score-board back to where it was last August, was recently forecast by Trade Minister Howe, who also predicted another drop when the March index is completed in about a month. The index September 1 last stood at 189.8, up from 188.9 on August 15.

The bureau's indexes for wholesale prices showed further declines during March among industrial materials but slight gains among some farm products.

During February, lower consumer prices were noted for beef; fresh pork, which dropped three cents a pound; and bacon which declined nearly five cents.

Eggs were down as well as cabbage and oranges, topcoats and men's suits, textile furnishings, cleaning supplies, automobile tires and soap.

Gains were made for rent, a few food items, furniture, floor coverings, dishes and hardware, telephone rates in eastern Canada, domestic bituminous coal, health and personal care and recreation costs.

Stupidity Added to Folly

THE provincial government's recent decision to make Victoria's new highway outlet do double duty for up-Island and West Coast Road traffic along several miles of its length at the outskirts of the city was bad enough. But the plan announced yesterday to funnel Patricia Bay airport traffic into Victoria through the same hole is downright stupid—so unbelievably stupid as to leave one wondering if the government is completely oblivious to the fundamental principles of modern highway development.

Earlier this week an official of the public works department succeeded in confusing everyone as to the route to be taken by the new airport highway. It was said that the original intention to follow Douglas Street into the city from Royal Oak had been abandoned in favor of Quadra Street because the new Island Highway was to use the southern end of Douglas. This would have been an eminently sensible change. Yesterday, however, the same anonymous official hastened to explain that it was all a mistake: the Patricia Bay and Island highways would share the same entrance to the city for the last mile or two.

How such a mistake in a matter of major policy came to be made has not been explained; but that is of less importance than the crass folly of assuming that Douglas Street, already seriously overloaded at certain times, can safely and adequately carry the extra burden of airport and Saanich Peninsula traffic. Between the city centre and Regina Avenue this single street thus would be called upon to bear all the traffic up-Island, all the traffic between the city and the fast-growing settlements from here to Jordan River, plus all or most of that now using Quadra Street. The government could not have departed farther from the elementary principle that terminal approaches of arterial highways carrying unrelated traffic should be kept as far apart as possible.

There was a chance to separate up-Island traffic from that going to Colwood, Langford, Sooke, and Metchosin; but the government was too short-sighted to grasp it. There was a chance to bring the Saanich Peninsula traffic into town through a separate entrance; but the government is prepared to throw that away, too, preferring the confusion of a Y-shaped junction at Regina and the chaos that will be created where Government, Douglas and Hillside meet.

As an example of engineering ineptitude this stands supreme. If action is not started immediately to block these projects before it is too late, Victoria will have only itself to blame for the difficulties and dangers that are bound to result.

They Deserve Better

SAID Dr. G. M. Shrum, member of the Defense Board and of the National Research Council, to a Vancouver audience of professional engineers this week: "You'd be fed up if you were there." He was speaking of Korea and the obsolete weapons used in that theatre by Allied troops.

Were it not that one has often doubted the glowing reports of this or that magical weapon said to have been developed, this disclosure would be astonishing. As it is, although depressing, it is not really surprising. The push-button warfare of fanciful imaginations is yet afar off. To date most of the weapons in use in Korea are dated from the last war.

In so far as Canada is concerned the reason for this according to Dr. Shrum, is a lack of engineers and scientists. "Plenty of research work has been done but little modern equipment has yet resulted. Jet planes traveling 600 miles per hour, for instance, still use machine guns classified by Dr. Shrum as pea-shooters.

From the point of view of Canadian troops in battle, who have recently suffered their 100th fatal casualty, this situation is understandably grievous. These men deserve the best that can be given them, and no matter who is mainly responsible the nation is letting them down by not equipping them with up-to-date weapons.

One is inclined to think not all the blame can be laid at the door of scientists and engineers, however. Production is what counts, not plans. By Dr. Shrum's own statement Canadian scientific research has made important contributions to warfare, and if the results are not showing on the battlefield then laggard production must be responsible. The federal treasury has had millions at its disposable for this purpose for several years now, and someone is falling down badly on the job if Canadian troops are obliged to fight with obsolete weapons.

Banning Foundation Stock

HAVING lectured the provinces on the evils of banning livestock movements at provincial boundaries because, as it said, the Regina outbreak of animal disease was now fully under control, the federal department of agriculture yesterday ordered an embargo against purebred, registered livestock imported to Canada from Great Britain. "This additional barricade is to keep the virus of foot-and-mouth disease out of Canada," it was explained. One expects to hear next that veterinarians have been sent north to stop the annual migration of Yukon deer at Caribou Crossing, for the same reason of course.

In normal years Canadians import perhaps as many as 50 animals from the United Kingdom. Here a bull, there a cow, and somewhere else a ram or ewe are brought in as foundation stock for Canadian herds. They are for the most part purebred, registered animals. Many come from "titled" farms, with a price on their heads of from $3,000 to $25,000. They come with names like Airlie's Sonsie Lad III., or Pygmalion Highland Belle—all curled, coiffed and pedicured, straight from the hands of leading veterinary surgeons. The chances of there being foot-and-mouth disease among such exhibition stock might safely be placed at one in ten million.

All that the department's new order will do is to stop Canadians building up their purebred stock at a time when economically that would be profitable.

CENTRAL SAANICH RATES

Sir,—I was interested in Reeve Pickles' statement in which he tried to explain to the taxpayers why he charged them double last year and was giving it back to them this year. He was annoyed with Councillors Mitchell and Andrew when they suggested he was budgeting blindly, without establishing a basis to work from. The refund in taxes proves how right they were.

Saanich enjoyed one of its biggest building years last year. One reason being, that thousands of dollars that should have come our way were invested south of the border, because our taxes were so much higher . . .

CONSTRUCTION COSTS

Sir,—Mr. E. T. Staley, who signed himself secretary of Provincial Council of Carpenters, wrote our firm in his official capacity and requested our permission to have the bargaining done for the new wage demand by the Provincial Council of Carpenters, acting in Vancouver. He confirmed my statement that the carpenters "are trying to bargain through their provincial council" and he says this is necessary because the large construction firms have their offices in Vancouver. That is precisely the point. I feel it is wrong in principle to set the wages in Vancouver, an industrial city, for the city of Victoria, which is largely residential. Business construction can pay higher wages as their profit will eventually amortize the cost of their construction, but a home owner in Victoria must pay his carpenter out of his earnings, and I still think that $20 a day is definitely "unfair" to the Victoria home owner, in view of his average income.

It should not be forgotten that we are not expecting the carpenters, as Mr. Staley says, to take the whole load on their shoulders and subsidize construction costs. The carpenters' wages set the pattern for all the tradesmen in the building trades industry, and thus are very important. I cannot agree at all with the average earnings of carpenters as outlined by Mr. Staley. Last year our firm paid the Victoria rate for carpenters, namely, $1.75 per hour, and I list here the 1951 earnings of the carpenters regularly employed by us: $3,185.34, $3,370.72, $3,291.21, $3,200.00, $3,413.18, $3,268.78 and $3,605.01. This works out to an average of $64.10 per week, against Mr. Staley's $56.91 per week. I would be pleased to show Mr. Staley, or anyone else, the government employee slips to confirm this.

With regard to the statement that a B.C. contractor made a profit of 36 per cent, or $3,590 on a $10,000 house, I can only say that this is a free country, and if this fantastic profit were possible, I cannot understand why carpenters do not, themselves, go into the building business. The actual fact is that the recognized profit is 10 per cent gross, if you are lucky, and the provincial and dominion governments allow only 5 per cent on any cost plus work, which is an indication of recognized percentage of profit. Last year a great number of contractors went out of business. Their margin of profit had shrunk to the point where they were unable to continue . . .

MAKING IT HARDER

Sir,—Here is one for Ripley. About two months ago, Jan. 31 to be exact, I received from the City of Victoria a registered letter. This was to the effect that my house number had been changed from 743 Richmond to 771. Dire and dreadful penalties would follow if I did not obey.

I notified all my newspapers, magazines, friends, B.C. Electric, B.C. Telephone, post office, insurance office, etc., of the new address.

Two days ago while working in my front garden I observed a man anxiously looking at all the house numbers in the vicinity. He was frustrated, so I asked him if I could help.

"Believe it or not," he was from the city, delivering water bills, and mine was marked 743 Richmond.

"YOU TOO!"

Slogans Again

By FRANK KELLEY

WHEN, in last week's column on slogans, I wrote about Victoria's noted English Inn on Langley Street, I intended to state that a Mrs. Jensen became its proprietress about 1889. What I wrote, however, was that she had founded this "little bit of England." It was only a few hours after the column appeared when our old friend Herbert Kent called my attention to the discrepancy, stating that other parties had operated the place since the early seventies.

It was not long after Mr. Kent had indicated, and rightly, too, that one should be careful to record all the facts when referring to this or that local landmark that another call from a reader who wanted to know if I knew who originated the "Follow the Birds" slogan. This, he said, was just about tops in "come-ons," worthy of some recognition instead of the "pussy-footing" that seems to occur every time it is suggested some credit be given its originator, if only an acknowledgment.

As I was not altogether aware there was any particular reason why the originator, if known, should not be credited with the smart verbal direction, the point-blank assault by phone had me hanging on the wires for a moment. Somehow I hadn't thought there was so much attached to the slogan; had taken it for granted in much the same way (for I liked him very much) as I did the chap I always thought had penned it. My understanding tallied with the name mentioned by the speaker. It was that of the late James Thompson, well-known publicity man in various fields quite some years ago.

* * *

Now if by any chance Jimmie Thompson's bones do not rest easy, it is the duty of his one-time friends to put the matter right. Not altogether sure of myself, although almost, I felt if anyone knew it would be some old friends like T. N. Johnston and Eric Marshall. Both plumped for Thompson, who was at one time associated with Herbert Cuthbert in the original Victoria Tourist Association, as local agent of the Milwaukee Road and another time identified with the Great Northern.

Slogan-conscious, Jimmie Thompson, according to Marshall, sparked the "Big Apple Line" for a U.S. railroad publicizing the Wenatchee Valley apple; while T. N. Johnston's verdict was that he originated the "Follow the Birds to Victoria" slogan and received a cheque for same from the then mayor of Victoria, A. E. Todd.

Slogan-happy he evidently was in his favorite work of producing "come-ons" at one time fashionable with public utility concerns as well as three-ring circuses and used to wonder if he could have had anything to do with some inspiring lettering on both sides of a covered wagon headed for the Grand Prairie country during the 1911-12 migration from the northwestern states to northern Alberta.

An agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway's land department, Jimmie Thompson had spent some time in midwestern states extolling the advantages of homesteading where there was so much land to be had for the seeking in a fine harvesting country, and had evidently worked to good advantage for the settlers as well as Canada. But although I twitted him on more than one occasion about the painted canvas sign on either side of a west-bound wagon on the road between Edmonton and Edson that spring of 1911, all I could raise was a fleeting smile. The sign read: "From God's Country to Heaven." At that, he could have been wholly guilty of that one. Could have been so appropriate, too.

Locking Stable Door

A court in the U.S. has found that the car driver who is subject to fits, who has had a heart attack and may have another, or who is fighting any type of malady which causes a blackout, is guilty of willful negligence and is criminally liable if he becomes involved in an accident while in that condition.

That settles that. But what charge should be entered against such a driver—before he has his accident?

Reports From Ottawa

IF words can launch the St. Lawrence seaway project, Ottawa has millions of them. A good many have come from the lips of the urbane, smooth-tongued minister of transport, Hon. Lionel Chevrier, who has talked seaway on at least 10 different occasions in the last three months.

His peregrinations have taken him as far west as Winnipeg, and even down into the States, to Detroit and New York. He addressed chambers of commerce, service clubs, professional groups, C.B.C. audiences and an American television audience.

Backstopping him with a half-dozen more speeches on the seaway were his parliamentary assistant, W. M. Benidickson; his private secretary, J. Gordon McLeod, and Guy A. Lindsay, chief of the branch of the transport department which is preparing seaway plans.

Even Foreign Minister Pearson helped publicize seaway plans in several speeches and press conferences in Canada and the United States.

* * *

All this rostrum activity was not to convince the Canadian people that the government was right in deciding to build the seaway on its own. Since the government announced this policy last fall, and parliament passed legislation to enable it to be carried out, Canadian public opinion has shown itself as being in favor of the plan.

The idea of "going it alone", if the Americans don't want to come in as a partner, rather appeals to the people. It flatters the national ego, the thought of showing the Yanks a thing or two. The C.C.F. party has even come out flatly in favor of rejecting any American bid to make the seaway a joint project.

In all their travels throughout the country, the seaway speakers have met sales resistance only in the Maritimes. And there the plan wasn't so much opposed as used as an argument for similar federal projects—for example, the Chignecto Canal and the development of the power potentialities of Passamaquoddy Bay.

* * *

Then why a sales campaign that isn't needed? Quite simple—it's a campaign to keep the seaway in the news, to foster public understanding of and interest in the government's program, and most important, to convince the Americans that Canada means business.

For despite the government's genuine determination to build the seaway alone if needs be, the government would still rather share the $250,000,000 cost with the United States, just as Ontario Hydro and some United States power authority will share the $500,000,000 cost of power development.

The government reasons thus:

1. This year's congress represents probably the last hope for United States participation.

2. The United States government, like the Canadian government, would prefer a jointly-owned waterway to an all-Canadian route.

3. The best way to needle the United States government into forcing a showdown with congress is by making it perfectly clear that Canada won't wait any longer. All suspicion that Canada is bluffing must be removed.

So Chevrier & Co. are talking up the seaway. What they say is being faithfully reported by the United States embassy here to the state department in Washington along with the embassy's analysis of the government's intentions and the public's reaction. And it's just possible that the speeches may change the atmosphere in Washington enough to get action which could save Canada $150,000,000 on the cost of the seaway.

"Bafflegab" Is the Word

(From The Ottawa Journal)

THE minister for external affairs has told the Commons he dislikes that new and horrible word "infrastructure" which, he says, means nothing more than "collective facilities." He adds that at Lisbon "we solemnly discussed a subject referred to on the agenda as 'the solution of the hard core of the third slice of infrastructure.'" Mr. Pearson did not attempt to interpret that masterpiece of what used to be called gobbledygook and now, according to a magazine, is known as "bafflegab"—a singularly appropriate word.

Time illustrates bafflegab by a quotation from a speech by a Washington official on the subject of allocations of materials:

"We are peaking our program philosophically, but it is naive to assume the allotment program is an equity program unless the allotments are so abysmally low that they permit the agency to relax and allow market determination as a percentage of base period, sidetracking military return with adjustments.

"This is based on use levels proportionately and is in the market test sense. We now have a quantitative framework with marginal qualitative allocations to formalize the procedure for further refining and implementing of our objectives."

"Infrastructure" is the sort of word invented by a certain type of official or professorial mind to the complete befuddlement of the public—and possibly of the inventor too. It is the same type of mind which delights in the construction of such abstruse nonsense as the piece of bafflegab we have quoted.

A couple of vats at a brewery in Milwaukee were struck by lightning in a flash storm. Not only were they undamaged, however, but experimentation proved that the beer within, instead of being spoiled, was actually improved in quality. FRANKLY SPEAKING

Clarence Budington Kelland once found himself in the capacity of toastmaster at a large dinner at which there was a large number of speakers. Kelland rose from his seat and began: "Ladies and gentlemen, the tactful toastmaster feels that it is his duty to be so infernally dull that the speakers who follow will appear to be brilliant by contrast."

There were a few self-conscious chuckles among the speakers. Then Kelland continued: "But I have looked over this list and I don't believe that I can do it."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

IF one robin lays four eggs and raises four young, then for two million robins that come north this month, six million will go south next September. And since the number of all species of birds who are to come blizzarding into Canada in the next few months is estimated not in millions but in billions, and since the average nesting is four or five for each pair, it is strange that we do not have to carry shields with us when we walk about, with which to push our way through a solid fog of birds.

* * *

But the enormous wastage of bird life each year keeps this annual tide of birds within control, so that, year after year, decade after decade, about the same number of birds distributes itself over the vast expanse of Canada. There is, of course, little new territory into which they can expand. All territory was explored ages ago, and the changes in territory attributable to man's cultivation are imperceptibly taken over and adapted by the suitable species of birds. Wastage alone accounts for the balance being kept. For all the surplus millions that may have gone south last fall, only the established millions will return this spring. One of my neighbors had a robin nest in his hedge last year. Two broods were hatched. But not one nestling of either brood got past the naked hatchling stage. Cats, crows and grackles got them all.

Only a fraction of the countless billions of eggs laid this May and June across Canada will result in birds fit to fly south in the fall. And of those that do set out, only a fraction survive the journey to and back from their far winter resort. The law of averages in nature is a nasty bit of algebra.

Genning-Up on The Billabong

From the Society of British Aircraft Constructors

AVIATION enthusiasts will have to take lessons in a new language—Australian aboriginal—if they want to be up-to-date with the latest aircraft nomenclature.

The reason is that the guided missiles and pilotless aircraft being tested at the Australian range of Woomera (which means "a device for launching spears") are being named in aboriginal dialects.

The pilotless jets now there, which began life with the cold letters E7/48, and later became Projects B and C, have now been christened "Jindivik" and "Pika."

It is important to know the meanings of new names because they often give a clue to the aircraft's role or class. British trainers, for instance, have an academic name (like Tutor, Prefect or Varsity); naval aircraft are named after fish (Barracuda, Swordfish, Shark, etc.), or sea birds (Albacore, Gannet, etc.); and other military aircraft are named after other forms of wild life (Camel, Tiger, Hornet, etc.).

* * *

Names also give a clue to makers—for instance, the Handley Page legendary heroes, the Rolls-Royce river-class of jet engines and the Hawker storm-class of fighters. The name MiG 15 also gives a clue to the designers, Mikoyan and Gurevich.

Keeping up to date with the new Australian rockets would be comparatively simple if only one tribal language were involved, but there are dozens. The languages are only written down phonetically and there are few dictionaries. It is known that "Pika" means "flier", for instance, but the combined brains of Australia House and London University cannot track down the meaning of "Jindivik" because it is not in any available dictionary.

The naming of American guided weapons follows traditional lines with words like Viking, Firebird and Sparrow. But since most of the new guided weapons being developed by Britain will be tested in Australia, the time has come when words like Woomera, Wirraway and Wallaby will have to come trippingly off the tongue.

With the Classics

From "Paradise Lost"

High in front advanc'd,
The brandish'd sword of God before them blaz'd
Fierce as a comet; which with torrid heat,
And vapour as the Libyan air adust,
Began to parch that temperate clime: whereat
In either hand the hast'ning Angel caught
Our ling'ring parents, and to th' eastern gate
Led them direct, and down the cliff as fast
To the subjected plain; then disappear'd.
They looking back, all th' eastern side beheld
Of Paradise, so late their happy seat,
Wav'd over by that flaming brand, the gate
With dreadful faces throng'd and fiery arms:
Some natural tears they dropp'd, but wip'd them soon;
The world was all before them, where to choose
Their place of rest, and Providence their guide:
They hand in hand with wand'ring step and slow,
Through Eden took their solitary way.

—John Milton.

Atomic officials in Ottawa have conceded that Canada's Chalk River atomic reactor has apparently yielded its leadership in one prominent field of such energy. The reactor no longer can produce neutrons—the triggers in splitting the atom—faster than any other reactor in the western world. Nevertheless, say these officials, a new materials-testing reactor built in Idaho has surpassed the Canadian plant.

Normal School Concert Presents Ancient Chants

Gregorian chants and selections from Handel's "Messiah" were all performed equally well by the cast of the Victoria Normal School spring concert last night.

The concert portrayed the progress of music, art and drama from the 12th to the 18th century.

It opened with the singing of two Gregorian chants by a monks' choir of the 1000 A.D. period, and continued up to the year 1500 with a display of art and drama of that age.

Costuming was extremely well done, and the music and drama well handled.

The second part of the concert dealt with the arts of 15th, 16th and 17th centuries, with a scene from Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet" and the music of Thomas Morely.

This part of the concert ended with two selections from Handel's "Messiah," by the large mixed choir.

The third and last part of the evening's entertainment was devoted to the production of A. A. Milne's, "The Princess and the Woodcutter."

Two more performances of the concert will be shown in the auditorium of the Normal School tonight and tomorrow night at 8.15.

School Effort For Funds Successful

A successful concert to raise money to pay the royalty on the play "The Queen and Mr. Shakespeare," Mount Newton's entry in the recent school drama festival, was staged at the school.

Though the play did not take honors in the festival, the Mount Newton players gave a good account of themselves and received good mention from the adjudicator.

The junior choir, led and accompanied by L. Miller, headlined the program after Bob Tubman, president of the students' council explained the object behind the concert.

Feature acts included the Pearson sisters, Noni and Sylvia; a "colored minstrel" quartet with singers Donna Moody, June Robbins, Jackie Carbert and Mona Waistell.

A male quartet, "The Moonlighters," and the Heathorbelle Orchestra, which was a prize winner in a recent talent show, also starred on the musical bill of fare.

Quartet members are Daryl Foster, Rod Hafer, Roy Westoby and Don Tregear and soloists were Donna Moody and Edna Gait.

Mrs. Ida Dunbar Dies at Home

Mrs. Ida Northland Dunbar, widow of Brig. James S. Dunbar, died yesterday at her home.

She was born in Quebec City and had resided in Victoria for 30 years. She is survived by two daughters, Lieut.-Col. Joan B. Kennedy and Capt. Jean Dunbar, both of Victoria; a son, Lieut.-Col. J. Bevin Dunbar of Halifax, and two brothers, Cuthbert Temple and Arthur N. Temple, both of Toronto.

Funeral service will be held at 2.30 p.m. Tuesday in St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, followed by cremation. Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nurse will conduct the service. Chaplin's Funeral Chapel is in charge of arrangements.

Highway Route Wrongly Given

A provincial government official was wrong when he said Thursday the new Patricia Bay Highway will enter Victoria by way of Quadra Street.

The public works department official admitted yesterday that he had been mistaken when he detailed the route of the highway outlet.

He said Quadra Street has been discarded in favor of Douglas Street as an outlet for the express airport highway.

Douglas Street is also to be part of the Victoria outlet to the Island Highway.

Douglas will be straightened and widened to 44 feet, the official said, with a 24-foot driving surface and 10 foot shoulders.

This will mean moving many houses and demolishing some others along the right-of-way, he said.

Work will start as soon as possible, he said. Provincial government plans will be sent to Ottawa at the beginning of next week.

In the World Of Religion

Dr. H. P. Whidden, who died a few days ago in Toronto at the age of 80, was a man of rich and varied gifts. As president of Brandon College, as chancellor of McMaster University, which he guided through its transfer from Toronto to Hamilton, and as editor of The Canadian Baptist, he rendered outstanding service to the Biptist cause in Canada, and as a member of Parliament during and just after the First World War, he brought his fine Christian principles to bear on the political life of this country.

A south transport is to be added to the Anglican cathedral in Cape Town, as a memorial to the late king at a cost of £15,000. His Majesty attended service in the cathedral, when he visited South Africa in 1947. His father, then the Duke of Cornwall, laid the foundation stone in 1901.

The ordination to the priesthood last month of George Vanier Jr., who is a member of the Cistercian Order at Oka, Quebec, recalled to this writer a remark made by the ordinand's father some years ago. General Vanier, a distinguished Canadian officer in the First World War, and an even more distinguished ambassador to France in recent years, had visited the Nazi concentration camp at Buchenwald and had seen at first the evidences of the atrocities perpetrated there. In a radio address he contrasted the thinking of the Nazis with the Christian conception of the sanctity of the individual life, and added this gem of thought: "Jesus Christ, the Son of God, came into the world to save each one of us by name."

People in Nigeria are so keen to have copies of the Scriptures that enterprising persons are buying them up and selling five shilling Bibles for 15 shillings according to Mrs. James Hutton, of the Qua Iboe Mission, who spoke at the Women's World Day of Prayer service in Belfast, Northern Ireland.

The Africans, in fact, in their newly-found literacy, are eager to read anything, and spurious and Communist literature is flooding the country, Mrs. Hutton said.

Protestants, Roman Catholics and Jews are said to have contributed to the erection of a group of stained glass windows in the tower of the First Congregational Church in Fresno, Calif., to symbolize "a tower of faith in the community." The windows bear replicas of the official seals of the National Council of Churches, the Congregational Christian Churches, the United Nations, the World Council of Churches, and the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The ancient cathedral of St. Patrick at Armagh was the scene and subject of a recent broadcast by the primate of the Church of Ireland, Archbishop Gregg. Founded by St. Patrick in A.D. 444, it is one of the oldest foundations in the British Isles. Between the 8th and 17th centuries the great church was burned or devastated on 19 occasions, but some of the masonry from the early buildings is preserved in the present structure. About $150,000 is now needed for the repair and preservation of the ancient shrine.

Freebooter Steeplechase Favorite; Tantivy Carries Canadian Colors

AINTREE, Lancashire.—England, April 4 (CP).—Forty-eight elderly thoroughbreds, representing seven countries including Canada, meet tomorrow in a contest of sheer guts and stamina. The event brings superlatives from everybody except the Animal Protective Association.

The [illegible] running of the Grand National, Britain's unpredictable killer of a race, variously billed as the greatest, toughest or most exciting steeplechase in the world.

Jumpers ranging from six to 12 years of age are slated to line up at 3.15 p.m. GMT (10.15 a.m. EST) for the four miles, 856 yards over this race track in suburban Liverpool. The odds are approximately 4-1 against any particular animal finishing Aintree's harp-shaped course.

Since Lottery won the first National in 1839, nearly 3,000 horses have gone to the post. Only about 800 have still been on their feet at the end.

TOUGH TEST

The toughest tests of horse and rider are the 16 fences, all but two of which are jumped twice. Probably the most famous is Becher's Brook, a thorn fence nearly five feet high with a 5½-foot natural brook on the landing side.

The race is just about as tough on the 300,000-odd spectators, plus millions of off-the-course bettors. Last year three outsiders were the only ones to finish from a 36-horse field, and the only favorite to win in post-war years has been Freebooter, probable favorite tomorrow.

Entries representing owners from Canada, United States, France, Spain and Ireland give this year's 106th running an international flavor. Canada's hopes are carried by Tantivy, an 11-year-old bay gelding tagged as the "lease-lend" horse since Toronto stockbroker Charles Burns obtained a half-share in him last week.

SPECIAL SILKS

Tantivy will carry specially-designed Canadian racing silks, with a maple leaf front and back. After the race the gelding will revert to the ownership of Capt. Tom Hanbury, an English owner-trainer who won the Military Cross when the British army swept across Germany into Berlin.

Before Burns went into action Tantivy was listed by most bookies at 100-1. Since then what Burns calls "loyalty wagers," some cabled from Canada, have trimmed the price to 66-1.

But past performances cast a slight doubt on his finishing speed.

At the final callover in London tonight, Freebooter was hoisted into the favorite's role at 100 to 8.

CARRIES TOP WEIGHT

Freebooter, owned by Mrs Lurline Brotherton, will carry top weight of 175 pounds. The 11-year-old jumper will be ridden by Bryan Marshall.

Second choice was Teal, a first time National starter, at 100 to 7. Royal Tan, a comparative youngster of eight who ran second to Nickel Coin last year, was the third favorite at 18 to 1. Teal will carry 152 pounds, including jockey Alex Thompson. Royal Tan, weighted at 160 pounds will be ridden by A. S. O'Brien.

The winner will collect a purse of [illegible].

The track was firm but there was a forecast of possible showers by post time.

England Must Defeat Scots To Share Title

GLASGOW, April 4 (CP).—England will meet Scotland at Hampden Park Saturday in an international match that will decide the soccer championship of the British Isles.

Currently, unbeaten Wales is leading for the honor with two victories and one tie for five points. Wales has completed its season.

England is in second place with three points (a victory and a draw) and must beat Scotland to gain a tie with Wales for the championship. Scotland has two points and Ireland has none, having lost all three internationals.

If Scotland wins, or the match is drawn, Wales will take the title outright.

Irene Strong Training Again

VANCOUVER, April 4 (CP).—One of Canada's top swimmers may compete in the 1952 Olympic Games.

Irene Strong, who holds all the Canadian women's breaststroke records, announced today she has come out of retirement and will seek readmittance to the Vancouver Swimming Club preparatory to training for the games.

Miss Strong retired from active swimming last summer.

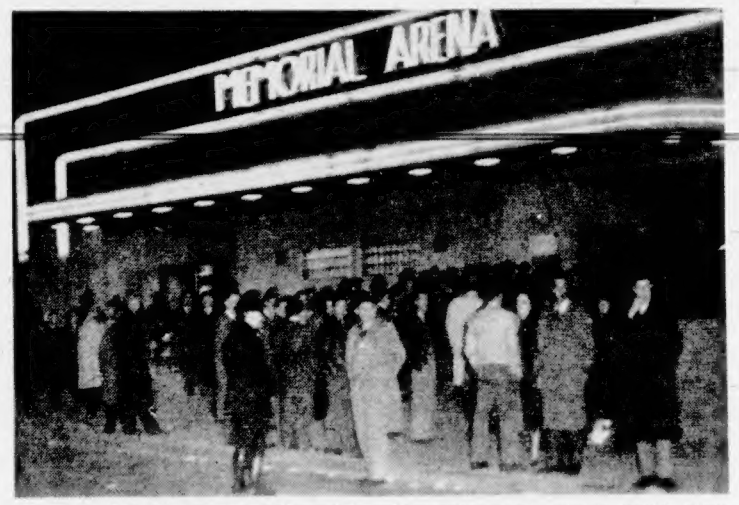
Cougars Stop Royals, 3-1; Force Seventh Game

New Westminster Royals look anything but happy in this picture. And they had right to be glum for Leon Bouchard had just scored to put Victoria Cougars into early 1-0 lead. Walt Atanas No. 16 gives vent to his feelings as he skates away with stick high while Doug Anderson No. 14 skates calmly away at far side of net. Roger Leger falls as he turns away (upper left). Royal players are left to right, Guyle Fielder, Bob Paul, Jim Bedard, Jake Forbes and Lucien Dechene.



It was another sellout crowd at Memorial Arena last night as above picture shows. This picture was taken 15 minutes after start of game and crowd shown is part of group of ardent Victoria fans who were turned away at door. Disappointed fans hung around door some time in hopes that some miracle would allow them to see game. And they missed a thriller as Victoria whipped New Westminster Royals 3-1 and tied best-of-seven series at three games each.—(Colonist photos by Jim Ryan.)

Deciding Game Slated Tonight

By DOUG PEDEN

Victoria Cougars and New Westminster Royals will settle their current argument as to which club will advance into the Pacific Coast Hockey League playoff finals in sudden-death fashion at the Royal city tonight.

Indomitable Roger Leger and his Cats made the final game of the best-of-seven series a necessity by battling their way to a 3-1 triumph over their rivals at Memorial Arena last night to knot the struggle at three games each.

Once again the Cougars held an edge in play over the league winners as their forwards persistently harassed the Royal attackers and the defensemen backed them up with rugged checking. However, it wasn't until Eddie Dorohoy fired a long shot into an empty net with less than a minute and a half remaining that victory appeared safe.

BOUCHARD STARTS IT

Rookie Leon Bouchard, taking over a defense berth vacated by the injured Ernie Roche, opened the scoring at 15.15 of the first period to give the Victorians a lead they never relinquished.

Playing an excellent game despite a wrenched knee, Bouchard fired a long, low shot from well out that Dechene couldn't see. After Walt Atanas and Les Hickey had worked the puck into position. It was Bouchard's first playoff goal in professional company.

Cougars opened the second session with a torrid attack that had the Royals badly disorganized as Atanas, Hickey and Doug Anderson peppered Dechene with rubber but were unable to fool the portly netminder.

BOOST MARGIN

Hickey finally found the rigging with slightly more than four minutes left in the period to boost Victoria into a 2-0 lead. Started off by Anderson, Fort George carried the puck over the Royal line and into the corner before sliding a pass in front. Hickey neatly flipped the rubber over the sprawling Dechene.

Royals showed to their best advantage during the hectic third period. Connoir was brilliant in saving from Gordon Fashoway as the raper-like thrusts by the visitors were increasing and became more dangerous. Bobby Love sliced the Victoria margin to 2-1 midway in the period after Jim Bedard had set up the play. Connoir saved from both Love and Dufault before the smooth forward banged in a second rebound.

EYES ON CLOCK

With the Royals pressing for the equalizer, the anxious crowd which again jammed the arena kept one eye on the game and the other on the creeping hands of the clock.

Fashoway almost broke away but Leger, in an astounding burst of speed, caught him from behind—and Connoir made a great stop on Clayton Lavell on the edge of the crease.

At 18.26, Dechene left his nets to favor of an extra forward. A few seconds later, Leger blocked a shot, carried the puck into centre ice before passing to Joe Medynski. Medynski slipped the puck to Dorohoy, who stepped over the Royal blue line and flicked a shot that nestled into the twine with a heart-warming bulge. The roof-shaking roar that followed—probably marked the first deep breath the Victoria fans had taken since Love's tally.

ROCHE STILL OUT

With big Ernie Roche expected to again be out of action tonight with his cut toe tendon, business manager Fred Hutchinson expects Leger to go with the same club that he iced last night.

Bouchard and Leger will form one combination in front of Connoir with Bernie Strongman and Geegan forming the other rearguard duo. Doug Anderson will centre Hickey and Atanas on one attacking unit with Reg Abbott being flanked by Andy Hebenton and Bob Frampton on another. Joe Evans, Medynski and Dorohoy will form the third forward line with Jack McIntyre ready for relief duty.

Hibberson Finishes McColl's Reign Over Empress Golf Tourney Open

Eric Hibberson ended Bill McColl's two-year reign as men's open champion in the Empress Golf Tournament when he defeated the Colwood shotmaker, 4 and 2, at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club yesterday.

Hibberson, from the Uplands Golf Club, completed the 18 holes in 74 strokes four over par—to cop the Chamber of Commerce Trophy. McColl went around in 79.

It was sweet revenge for Hibberson who lost to McColl in the 1950 final.

McColl started out in superb form and went three up on the first three holes. Hibberson won the fourth with a birdie two. They halved the fifth and McColl won the sixth to go three up again.

Then Hibberson started his comeback. He swept past McColl by winning the seventh, eighth, ninth and 10th holes to go in front for the first time. McColl won the 11th to square the match and Hibberson took the next three holes. They halved the 15th and Hibberson won the 16th for his 4 and 2 win.

The cards follow:

Par out	444 334 344—35
Hibberson out	355 336 344—39
McColl out	444 434 455—39
Par in	454 433 344—35—70
Hibberson in	444 443 344—35—74
McColl in	435 363 344—40—79

McColl is still in the running for the championship flight honors, however. He downed fellow Victorian Gordon Verley, 3 and 2, in the semi-finals yesterday, and will meet E. W. Thompson of Astoria in the final today. Thompson, who eliminated medallist F. J. "Hap" Heitkemper of Portland Thursday, won his semi-final match from E. Rapp of Portland, 3 and 2.

INTERNATIONAL FINAL

Mrs. V. Painter of Victoria and Mrs. G. Greene of Seattle will meet in the final of the women's championship flight today.

Mrs. Painter defeated fellow Victorian Mrs. N. Husband, 4 and 3, while Mrs. Greene eliminated Victoria's Miss F. E. Paynter, 1 up in the other bracket.

Prelow, Bryant Releases Begin Tyee Roster Cuts

(Special to the Colonist)

SALINAS, Calif., April 4—Manager Cece Garriott made the first cuts in the roster of Victoria Tyees today when he released two of the nine colored players trying out for the team.

They were second baseman Cliff Prelow, who batted two for three and stole a base in an exhibition victory over the Monterey Naval Post Graduate School, and catcher Maisoe Bryant.

Earlier it was announced that shortstop Jimmy Clark and first baseman Chuck Abernathy will be joining the club. Clark agreed to terms in a phone conversation with business manager Reg Patterson and will report immediately. He is anxious to play in Victoria.

Abernathy, who batted .273 for Vancouver last season, was obtained in a trade which sends southpaw Jim Hedgecock to the Caps. An unnamed catcher also comes to the Victoria club in the deal.

SCHEDULING ERROR

Today's victory was an error in scheduling. The Monterey team was very weak and the Tyees benefited from eight errors, nine bases on balls, a hit batsman, a wild pitch and a passed ball as they romped to a 16-2 verdict.

Triples by three colored players—shortstop Granny Gladstone, second baseman Luther Branham and outfielder Harvey Allen—were the only extra base blows. Allen's triple came with the bases loaded and he also hit two singles for a total of five runs batted in.

Ernie Sites had two for two, Dick Bartle had three singles in five trips and Don Pries had two singles and a walk and scored four runs.

Tyees play at Stockton tomorrow and Sunday and return home to play the Fort Ord team at Salinas Monday.

Boosters Nominate Four for Office

The Victoria Baseball Booster Club has nominated Stu Keate, Arthur P. Dawe, Emerson D. Le Lacheur, and David G. Nightingale for the office of president of the Victoria Baseball and Athletic Co. Ltd.

The annual meeting will be held Wednesday at the Club Sirocco.

Lacrosse Practice

Doug Fletcher, president of the Greater Victoria Box Lacrosse Association, announced yesterday that a practise for all players 10-14 years of age will be held at the Stevenson Park box today at 10.30 a.m.

Any youngster, with or without a lacrosse stick, who is in the above age group and who wishes to play lacrosse this summer should attend the workout.

Trail Extends Cup Series

TRAIL, B.C., April 4 (CP)—Trail Smoke Eaters kept in the Allan Cup chase here tonight by scoring two goals in overtime to slip by Edmonton Pats, 5-4, in the fifth game of the best-of-seven series.

The Western Canada Allan Cup semi-final series now stands at 3-2 in games for Edmonton. Sixth game in the playoffs will be played here tomorrow night.

Glenlyon Crowns Boxing Champions

David Dorman and George Keith were crowned boxing champions at Glenlyon Preparatory School Thursday during the schools' annual gymnastic and boxing display at St. Mary's Hall.

Dorman captured the Jones Cup, emblematic of the senior championship, by decisioning Ian Thow in a hard-fought contest. Keith won the junior title by defeating John Walker.

The gymnastic display under the direction of W. J. Stevens included calisthenics, skipping, tumbling and vaulting. A large crowd of parents and friends attended.

Graham Posts $2,000 Forfeit For Title Bout

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP).—Jack Reilly, co-manager of welterweight Billy Graham, posted a $2,000 forfeit with the New York Athletic Commission today as a part of his challenge to champion Kid Gavilan for a title bout.

The commission accepted the check when Reilly said he was willing that his fighter meet Gil Turner of Philadelphia, if necessary, to clear the way for such a bout. Graham is a veteran challenger for Gavilan's title while Turner has moved forward rapidly in the last year.

Araujo Stops Riley in Ninth

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP).—George Araujo, 20-year-old lightweight contender, made a sensational New York and television debut tonight by stopping Charley Riley of St. Louis in 1.06 of the ninth round of a 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

It was the 29th straight victory for the Providence, R.I., boxer. Araujo outweighed his rival, 134 to 128.

In a brisk eight-round semi-final, Fernand Drouin, 134½, Quebec, out pointed Johnny Kamber, 135¾, Livingston, N.J.

Handicapper Picks Seven Straight

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—Frank Ortell, veteran racing handicapper of The New York World-Telegram and Sun, picked the first seven winners at Jamaica Thursday. He missed only on the eighth and lace race.

Such picking so early in the season is phenomenal.

Ortell selected in order Eternal Betsy ($6.70), Disjax ($6.70), Toquilla ($8.60), Deflation ($6.90), Landmark ($4.20), Ted M. ($6.20), and Vigorous ($7.60). He picked Saturday in the eighth and the horse finished fourth.

A $2 parlay on the seven would have returned $8,439.25.

Bays Force Fourth Game In Colonist Cup Series

When it comes to the Howard Russell rugby competition or the Colonist Cup soccer play, Oak Bay High School is hard to beat.

Oak Bay students proved that again yesterday as they rose from the brink of defeat to down Mount View High School, 2-1, and tie the best-of-three series at one win each with one game tied.

Bays' victory forces a fourth game which will be played Monday. Site of the game has not been decided yet. The first game was played at Mount View, the second at Windsor Park and yesterday's contest was at Victoria High School.

Oak Bay had been shut out in the first two games of the series, tying, 0-0, and losing 1-0, but it only took a minute to get on the scoresheet yesterday.

QUICK OPENING

Gerry Rovers took the ball almost from the faceoff, broke away by himself and gave goalie Gene Pedneault no chance.

Bays kept pressing and ten minutes later Monty Little put them two goals in front. Pedneault stopped three successive shots before Little could get the ball past him.

Little scored a second goal in the first half but an offside was called on the play and it was not counted.

Winners had it all over their opponents in the first half. They kept the ball almost continually in the Mount View zone and thwarted most of the Suburbanites attacks before they were started.

Bays appeared to run out of gas in the second half and Mount View took command. Dick Stone scored Mount View's only tally late in the second half. Goalie Laurie Veitch made a fine stop on a hard drive but Stone nipped in to put the rebound home.

The individual spotlight was again taken by Pedneault who came up with many fine saves, and had no chance on any of the shots which eluded him. He was kicked in the head late in the second half during a goal-mouth scramble but returned to action.

Veitch was somewhat jittery in the Oak Bay goal and looked particularly bad when he misjudged a high lob in the second half and had to rely on his fullbacks to keep the ball out of the net.

Lineups follow:

Mount View—Gene Pedneault, Jim Munro, Grover Wilson, Norm Millet, Dave Price, Ron Leggett, Ernie Wilson, Arthur Hough, Garry Crowe, Dick Stone, Alan Ott, Sparky Gordon, Dwayne, Cliff Hooper, Mike Blythe, Bob Mann.

Seven Entries For Senior B Softball Loop

Seven teams have entered the Senior B men's softball league for the 1952 season, it was announced yesterday.

B.C. Forest Products, last year's champions, lead the teams which include, Esquimalt Athletic Association, Western Heat, Tillicums, Army, Fosters and Esquimalt Merchants.

Navy has announced it will not enter a team this season and no word has been received from the Civil Service entry. It is hoped to have an eight-team loop.

Fosters, last year's Island Fuel team, and Esquimalt Merchants are graduating from the senior C league.

The league plans to get under way May 4. It will play its games at Heywood Avenue, Bullen Park, Macdonald Park and at Central Park when the senior A league is idle.

Ebb Tide Risks Record Against Crimson Tide XV

The Ebb Tide will be carrying a lot of reputation with it when it meets the Crimson Tide in an exhibition rugby game this afternoon, but it remains to be seen if the former day stars have anything else left.

The ex-reps will meet the present day Victoria representatives at Upper Macdonald Park, starting at 2.30 p.m.

The Ebb Tide will include Alderman Brent Murdock (Police Commissioner), Bob Mair, Phil Salmon, Al Williams, Harry Barber, Tom Dalziel, Scott Kerr, Tom McKeachie, Bill Gornall, Bill Haikett, Doug Bray, Fraser Shepherd, Harry Gibson, Alan Turner and Doug Willard. Others who may turn out for the team are Art Chapman, Doug Peden, Rod McGinnis, Ted Colgate, Red Fisher and Ted Bolton.

The Crimson Tide will not be able to field its strongest lineup for the game. It has several players out with injuries and all Oak Bay Wanderer members will not be present.

WANDERERS TRAVEL

The Wanderers will be traveling to Vancouver to meet Vimtex for the British Columbia senior rugby championship. The J.B.A.A. second division team will also play at Vancouver for the provincial second division title.

The Tide will have Gary Webster at scrum half, Ray Calton at standoff, Dave Cook and Gary Pynn, centres; Dave MacKenzie and Gordie Pynn, wings, and Derek Hyde-Lay, fullback.

The forwards are Pete Barry, Ed Bourke, Don Shaw, John Bigelow, Harry Turner, Bob Shipley, John Poole and Bill Thorburn. R. Hansen and Ray Ramsay will be in reserve.

Quakers Rout Rockets In First Semi-Final Tilt

SASKATOON, April 4 (CP)—A five-goal outburst in the third period tonight gave Saskatoon Quakers a 7-1 victory over Tacoma Rockets in the first game of their best-of-five Pacific Coast Hockey League semi-final.

A capacity crowd of 5,300 saw Quakers spot Tacoma the first goal early in the game and then come back to turn the contest into a rout.

Veteran Johnny Chad and George Senick led the snipers with two goals each. Bob Manson, Doug Bentley and Alex Kuzma got the others. Chuck MacDonald scored the lone Tacoma goal.

Quakers tied the count at 1-1 before the first period ended and scored the only goal of the second period before pumping in five in the final session when the Rocket defense collapsed.

BOTH COME CLOSE

Both clubs came close before Tacoma broke the scoreless deadlock at 10.09 of the first period. MacDonald banged the puck past Worsley from the fringe of the crease after taking a pass from the right wing corner by Dutch Del Monte.

Quakers didn't get that back until 18.59 when Manson backhanded a waist high shot past Stevenson from left wing.

Each club was a man short through penalties when the second period opened and Quakers went ahead 2-1 at 34. Bentley beat Stevenson cleanly on a blazing 30-foot shot after taking a pass going in from George Senick. The two Tacoma defencemen went for Senick and Bentley moved quickly into the clear.

Quakers turned the game into a foot in the third period when Rockets appeared to run out of steam.

Colonist Cup Soccer Action

Oak Bay goalie Laurie Veitch made fine save on this hard drive by Dick Stone but it was to no avail as young Mount View forward rushed in to head rebound home in Colonist Cup soccer game at Victoria High School yesterday afternoon. Oak Bay won 2-1, however, to tie best-of-three series at one game each with one tied. Cardinals Held Hitless By Philadelphia Rookie

A rookie right-hander, who is trying to make Philadelphia Phillies' starting line-up, made manager Eddie Sawyer and his teammates sit up and take notice in a spring training exhibition baseball game at Savannah, Georgia, yesterday.

Steve Ridzik went the full nine innings for the first time this spring and set St. Louis Cardinals down without a hit as the Phils went on to a 3-0 triumph.

The five-foot, 11-inch right-hander walked three, hit three batters and struck out two. He also scored the winning run in the eighth. The 23-year-old Ridzik played with Baltimore in the International League last season and won five while losing 11 games.

GIANTS AWAKEN

New York Giants rebounded from a seven-game losing streak to Cleveland by trounching the Indians 5-3. Bob Feller pitched the first three innings for the Indians and allowed only one hit. Early Wynn replaced him in the fourth and the National Leaguers greeted him with a seven-hit barrage.

Big Walt Dropo's grand-slam homer in the first inning was enough to clinch Boston Red Sox' 9-3 win over Fort Worth Cats of the Texas League. The 390-foot drive came after right-hander Ray Moore had passed the first three Boston batters.

Chris Van Cuyk and Clem Labine shut out Boston Braves on nine hits as Brooklyn Dodgers took a 7-0 victory.

PAIGE FINED $100

Manager Rogers Hornsby of St. Louis Browns slapped a $100 fine on veteran Satchel Paige yesterday for failing to show up for a game against the Pirates last Monday.

The Browns defeated Chicago White Sox 5-4 in an exhibition yesterday. The win evened the series at two games each.

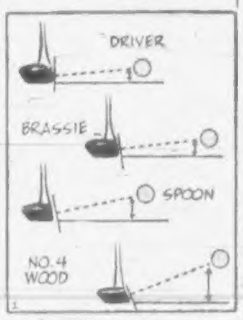
Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher



Today let's take a look at the woods. Why are they designed as they are? The driver (No. 1) has the longest shaft. The brassie (No. 2) is about ½" to 1" shorter than the driver; the spoon (No. 3) is shorter than the brassie and the No. 4 wood is shorter than the spoon. There's a reason, of course.

The clubface loft increases from wood No. 1 down through No. 4. So we see the shorter the clubshaft the more lofted the face. And the shorter the club the closer the player must stand to the ball.

The greater the loft the higher the flight of the ball. The driver delivers a longer ball than the brassie, the brassie longer than the spoon, and the spoon longer than No. 4. I will talk over each club in detail in later articles. Meanwhile, study the drawing. Important golf lessons are there.

Cliff Coulter Suspended Indefinitely

There is no joy in the Victoria Merchant camp right now.

Three games down to Navy in the best-of-seven Commercial Hockey League playoff final series, Merchants learned yesterday that forward Cliff Coulter has been placed under indefinite suspension until his case can be reviewed by the league executive.

The suspension was ordered for Coulter's part in the fight with referee Leo Ornest during the last game on Wednesday.

League president Duke Keats said yesterday the meeting would be held either Monday or Tuesday but that Coulter would not be available for the fourth game in the series Monday.

Coulter could face a life suspension as it is the second time this season he has attacked an official. A report may be sent to the B.C.A.H.A. which would decide his fate in the rest of the province.

Soccer Steals Caps' Hurler

VANCOUVER, April 4 (CP)—One of British Columbia's greatest all-round athletes has switched from baseball to football.

Sandy Robertson, who two years ago tied a Western International League baseball pitching record with 11 straight wins, announced today he will sign with Vancouver City of the Pacific Coast Soccer League.

Retains Cue Title

BOSTON, April 4 (AP)—Willie Mosconi clinched his third straight world's pocket billiards championship title and his 10th in the last 11 years tonight by defeating Jimmy Moore 150-58 in 19 innings.

It was Mosconi's eighth straight win without a loss.

Toronto St. Michael's College pulled out a 6-4 overtime win over Edmonton Athletic Club to capture the Memorial Cup at Winnipeg 18 years ago tonight. The Toronto club had won the first game 5-0 in the final for the Canadian junior amateur hockey title.

Canadiens' 20-Goal Men Keeping Patrick on Edge

MONTREAL, April 4 (CP)—To hear the two coaches talk today you'd think the positions of the teams in this Stanley Cup hockey semi-final were just the reverse.

Boston Bruins have just handed coach Lynn Patrick three victories in a row over Montreal Canadiens, romping to a 3-2 lead in games in the best-of-seven series. And the next game is on Boston ice Sunday.

But there was coach Patrick, sitting alone in a hotel lobby. He was the saddest-looking winning coach imaginable.

"I'm sweating out Sunday's game," said Patrick mournfully. He looked it.

"I know we need only one more win to put us in the final against Detroit. But. . . ."

And why was Mr. Patrick particularly worried?

"Who wouldn't be?" came back Patrick. "Why, that Montreal team has five or six 20-goals-and-better scorers for the season on the line-up. We can't afford to let up or relax for even one second."

Up at the Montreal Forum where his team lost a 1-0 heart-breaker last night, coach Dick Irvin actually allowed a few smiles to flit across his face.

Irvin is known throughout the National Hockey League for his chronic dolefulness and taciturnity.

WILL SCORE GOALS

"The team that beats us Sunday," proclaimed Irvin, "will have to play the best game that ever has been played in the National Hockey League."

"We're going to score goals. You can't always keep fellows like Rocket Richard, Boom Boom Geoffrion and Dickie Moore from scoring. We're due to break out again."

There was no moaning by Irvin over the loss of two centre players out with injuries. He is convinced the scoring punch is still there with any one of a half-dozen players and that's the very thing coach Patrick was in a stew about.

"I'm sweating out Sunday's game," said Patrick mournfully. He looked it.

"I know we need only one more win to put us in the final against Detroit. But. . . ."

And why was Mr. Patrick particularly worried?

"Who wouldn't be?" came back Patrick. "Why, that Montreal team has five or six 20-goals-and-better scorers for the season on the line-up. We can't afford to let up or relax for even one second."

Up at the Montreal Forum where his team lost a 1-0 heart-breaker last night, coach Dick Irvin actually allowed a few smiles to flit across his face.

Irvin is known throughout the National Hockey League for his chronic dolefulness and taciturnity.

WILL SCORE GOALS

"The team that beats us Sunday," proclaimed Irvin, "will have to play the best game that ever has been played in the National Hockey League."

"We're going to score goals. You can't always keep fellows like Rocket Richard, Boom Boom Geoffrion and Dickie Moore from scoring. We're due to break out again."

Island Match Play Open Draws Large Entry List

More than 100 golfers will tee-off in the qualifying round of the Vancouver Island Match Play Open golf tournament, sponsored by CJVI, at the Royal Colwood Golf and Country Club tomorrow.

Included in the field, the largest in the history of the event, is Bob Fleming, the defending champion.

Playing privileges for Colwood members not in the tourney will be available at the Uplands, Gorge Vale and Victoria courses.

The valuable prize list is worth about $1,000. The prizes include a custom-tailored man's suit, a Kodak Tourist camera and supplementary equipment, a spot and fog lamp set, two pairs of golf shoes, a thermos decanter set, enough paint to redecorate the interior of an average home, and two dozen golf balls.

Draw and starting times follow:

Pete Kirchner Repeats Win In Long Race

Peter Kirchner, Victoria High School's cross-country ace, added another honor to his long string of achievements when he won the Victoria High cross-country championship yesterday. It was the second year in succession that Kirchener has won the five-mile grind and proved beyond a doubt that he is the top long-distance runner in the city.

Kirchner completed the rugged course in the excellent time of 27 minutes 10 seconds before a good crowd of student supporters under perfect running conditions.

Dick Woods finished second, Bill Oldham placed third, and Mike Chambers finished fourth. All are from Victoria High.

In team competition against runners from Mount View and Navy, Victoria High swept to an overwhelming victory, placing eight runners in the first 10.

Immediately following the race, officials from the Canadian Legion presented the first, second and third-place finishers with trophies.

Rookie Hurler Loses Left Eye

ST. LOUIS, April 4 (AP)—The injured left eye of baseball pitcher Bob Slaybaugh was removed in an emergency operation today.

Dr. S. Albert Hanser, who performed the operation, said a rupture at the rear of the eyeball forced the removal.

Slaybaugh, 20-year-old left-hander, was reported in good condition after the operation.

Slaybaugh, property of St. Louis Cardinals, was struck in the eye by a line drive during batting practice more than two weeks ago at St. Petersburg, Fla.

Grads to Meet Tillsonburg For Hoop Title

MONTREAL, April 4 (CP)—Tillsonburg Livingstons last night won the eastern Canada senior basketball championship by overpowering Y.M.H.A. Senior Blues 57-49 in the final game of the three-game series.

The Tillies won the opener by a single point, 52-51, and the Blues [illegible] second tilt.

Tillsonburg, holders of the Bunny Sabbath Trophy, emblematic of eastern Canada basketball supremacy, now will meet the high-powered Winnipeg Varsity Grads for the national title.

The finals are scheduled for Tillsonburg, Ont., April 7, 8, 9.

Sam Snead Leads Hogan Midway in Augusta Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga.—April 4 (CP)—Sam Snead playing bold and near-perfect golf, took the lead in the annual masters tournament today with a 36-hole score of 137.

One stroke off the pace in the opening round with 70, the long-hitting veteran shot a devastating 67 for a three-stroke lead over little Ben Hogan.

Snead's total was seven strokes under par for the two round over the par-72 6,950-yard Augusta National course.

Hogan, who scored his second 70 in a row for 140, had a two-stroke edge over Jim Ferrier, Canadian Open champion; Tommy Bolt and Johnny Revolta. The title had 142s.

LEONARD FALTERS

Stan Leonard of Vancouver dropped far off the pace when he went over par for the second day in succession. He shot a 76 to go with his first-round 75 for a total of 151.

A new challenger turned up today when Jack Burke matched Snead's round of 67. Burke, winner of four straight tournaments on the winter circuit, started with a 76. His total was 143.

Sigel, playing with Bill Goodloe of Valdosta, Ga., engaged in a driving contest all the way. And it was largely those long drives that enabled him to whip par. His card of 34-33—67 showed only one hole over par and three of his six birdies came on the long par-five holes.

Hogan, playing through showers, had only one bad hole, the 555-yard second, and a six there cost him a chance to be closer.

Second only to Snead and Burke in today's scoring was Dave Douglas. He carded 33-36—69 after an opening round of 76.

Tied with Burke at 143 were Johnny Palmer, George Fazio and amateur Harvie Ward of Tarboro, N.C.

Interment in Royal Oak Burial Park.

WARDLEY-SMITH — Suddenly, on April 2, 1952, at his residence, 1870 Oak Avenue, Edward Warder Smith, dear [illegible] of Ethel and Kathleen Smith, [illegible] of Mrs. Ethel Smith, aged 66 years. He was a member of Metropolitan United Church for 12 years. Funeral service will be held in the Thompson Funeral Home, Saanich Road, on Saturday, April 5, at 1 p.m. Rev. R. E. Hawker officiating. Cremation to follow.

6 IN MEMORIAMS

HANNETT — In loving memory of Minnie Hannett, who passed away April 5, 1951.
Dear Lord, in your care we leave our loved one.
Mother, in heaven we leave you with Jesus.
As we do our loved ones.
Ever remembered by her family.

McDONALD — In memory of a loving son, Donald and Ada McDonald — who passed away April 5, 1945.
Time will never change those ones we love so dearly.
Nor can it take from our hearts the memory of those we loved.
Ever remembered by his sister Vi and family.

Winning Contract

By Howard Schenken and Richard L. Frey

BRIDGE QUIZ

First bids are the foundations upon which the partners must stand in their reaching for the ultimate contract. Other situations may be more complex, but there is seldom a more important bid in the auction than the first one made by each partner.

Both sides are vulnerable. There have been three passes. What do you do with each of the following hands?

♠ A K 5 3 2
♡ A 4 2
◇ 7 6
♣ 4 3 2

(b)
♠ 7 6
♡ 4 3 2
◇ A K 5 3 2
♣ A 4 2

(c)
♠ A J
♡ K 10 7
◇ A 5 4 3 2
♣ K Q 5

(d)
♠ A 5 4 3 2
♡ 7 6
◇ 2
♣ A K 7 4 2

(e)
♠ K Q 7 6
♡ A Q 6 5 2
◇ Q 2
♣ 10 9 6

(f)
♠ A 5 4 3 2
♡ K 10 7
◇ A J
♣ K Q 5

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

(a) Bid one spade. Although your chance of making game is not very bright once partner has passed with an even division of the remaining high cards your side should have the best chance to make a part score because you have the highest suit; indeed, it will be difficult for the opponents to come into the auction over an opening spade bid.

(b) Pass. Partner having passed, your chance of game is almost non-existent and since you have your strength in the minors the opponents may be able to outbid you. The book says you have an opening bid in any position, but common sense tells you that you are at a disadvantage because you stand to lose more than you stand to gain.

(c) Bid one notrump. Your hand meets the requirements for this bid, and by opening with one notrump you will simplify your future course by putting the decision in your partner's hand, where it belongs. Furthermore, you put partner into a position where he can double an adverse overcall, which he might not be able to do if your opening bid were one diamond.

(d) Bid one club. It is true you are not forced to rebid if partner bids one of the red suits because partner's pass has removed the forcing character of a nonlimum new suit response. But you want to rebid because you don't want to leave the contract in a red suit. If you opened with one spade, you'd have to rebid two spades because you aren't strong enough to bid three clubs.

(e) Bid one spade. Your strength in the majors warrants opening, even though fourth hand, but you are not strong enough to reverse by bidding your five-card suit first.

(f) Bid one spade. Although one notrump would also be correct, with this hand there is some virtue in showing the five-card major. There is practically no response partner might make that will embarrass you for a good rebid; yet if you suppress the five-card suit you may miss an easy game at spades and reach an unmakeable notrump contract.

Uncle Wiggily Story - - -

By Howard Garis

HERE AND THERE

Mr. and Mrs. Fox soon found out that it was not very easy work to dig through the hollow log to get at Uncle Wiggily. Though the log was hollow, the sides were quite thick and the wood was not as soft and rotten on the outside as it was on the inside.

"We are not getting through the log very fast, Archibald," said Mrs. Fox as she stopped a moment to rest.

"No, we are not, Clarissa," agreed Mr. Fox. He looked at the bits of wood that he and his wife had chipped off the outside of the hollow log with their paws. "We are not halfway through the log. At this rate it will take us until dark to dig out Uncle Wiggily. There ought to be some other way."

"There is another way, Archibald," exclaimed Mrs. Fox.

"What is it, my dear?" asked Mr. Fox, as he rubbed his teeth with his tongue. "In what other way can we get Uncle Wiggily out of this hollow log except by digging him out?"

"Listen, Archibald," said Mrs. Fox as she rubbed her tongue over her teeth. "This log has holes at both ends. Why don't we crawl in one hole, crawl through the log and drive Uncle Wiggily out of the other hole. In that way we will have him in the open again and we can chase him. How about it?"

"That's a good idea, my dear Clarissa," said Mr. Fox. "We will stop this slow work of trying to dig Uncle Wiggily out. Instead, we shall crawl inside the log and drive him out. Come on."

Uncle Wiggily could hear the foxes jump off the log and run to the end hole into which he had jumped from the woodland path. Still keeping to the middle, inside the log, the rabbit heard Mr. Fox say to his wife:

"Let me go in first, my dear."

"No, Archibald, let me go in first. The rule is ladies first, you know, and I am a lady fox."

"So you are, my dear Clarissa, but this time I ought to go in first."

"Why, Archibald?"

"Because, my dear, there may be a bear or some big animal in that log with Uncle Wiggily. Bears are dangerous. I would not want you to get into danger. So I will go in first."

"But then you may get into danger, Archibald. I wouldn't like that. I don't want you to go in the log first and you don't want me to go in first. So I'll tell you what we'll do."

"What, my dear Clarissa?"

"We shall both crawl in the log together, side by side. If there is a bear or other danger in the log we will face it both together as we should. Come on."

Mr. and Mrs. Fox tried to squeeze into one end of the hollow log, together, side by side. But the hole was not large enough. They twisted, turned, squirmed, squamed and squinned but the hole just wasn't large enough for two foxes at the same time. Uncle Wiggily heard the foxes squirming, squaming and squinning and laughed out loud. Then he ran through the log to the far hole, stuck his head out and shouted:

"Here I am! Come on ... get me!"

"Oh, there he is!" cried Mr. Fox. He and his wife stopped trying to squeeze themselves in through the other hole. They ran along outside the log toward Uncle Wiggily.

"I guess it's time for me to crawl back inside," thought the rabbit gentleman. But when he tried to crawl back inside the log he couldn't. His fur coat caught on a splinter and there he was, held fast with the two foxes coming at him.

But do not worry. Everything is going to be all right. I will tell you about it in tomorrow's story, if the piece of cheese will jump over the apple pie without knocking off any of the powdered sugar.

"Come and get me"

Colonist Comic Radio Feature

SPACE Cadet, one of the regular comic strips on this page, is also a national radio feature, presented in the form of a half-hour serial each Wednesday and Friday.

The show, which is designed for children, can be heard over CJVI at 5 p.m. on the two days each week. It is part of the station's 45-minute special list of programs for children.

U.S. Draft Protested

MOSCOW, April 4 (AP) — Moscow press today published the text of a new Soviet note to the United States protesting a provision of the American draft law affecting foreigners.

The note says the law is a "crying violation" of international law in that it calls for drafting foreign citizens, including Soviet citizens who permanently reside in the United States, into the U.S. army.

Newspaperman, Author Dies in New York, 75

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP) — James C. Hickey, 75, newspaperman and columnist on astronomy, died Thursday. A book written by him, "Introducing the Universe," was published last year.

Lions Clubs Press Easter Seal Drive

Crippled children throughout British Columbia will benefit through the current Easter seal campaign now being conducted by Lions Clubs of the province.

The Victoria club has already distributed about 4,000 envelopes, each containing literature and Easter seals, in the Greater Victoria area.

Objective for B.C. this year is $60,000. Last year more than $22,500 was raised.

Jack Halton, head of the Victoria Easter seal committee, reports that contributions are arriving steadily. The drive will continue until the end of the month.

At yesterday's meeting the Lions heard Past Presidents George Thackray and Clarence Johns present brief reviews of the club's past history. Yesterday was the club's 11th birthday.

Alex Crozier, district governor from Vancouver, was unable to attend the meeting as planned.

President Charles Savage said there would be no meeting Good Friday, and that the following week would be annual nomination day. Elections will be held May 18.

French Pilot Claims Solo Endurance Mark

ST. REMY DE PROVENCE, April 4 (Reuters) — French glider pilot Charles Atger today claimed a world solo endurance record after staying aloft for 36 hours 32 minutes. The old record of 56 hours was held by a German pilot.

New Craft to Be Launched

Next Saturday will be an important day for Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Taylor of Sidney. At 4.45 p.m. that day their new 42-foot cabin cruiser Scump will be launched from the Clark Bros. Boatworks, Brentwood.

The trim craft has sleeping accommodation for eight and is powered by twin 110-horsepower engines. Her keel was laid shortly before Christmas last year.
